FOR THEIR PARTY'S SAKE

The stories published by the Calgary Herald and Journal about the mounted rifles and the mounted police being called out to be ready to quell the coal strike is as malicious a piece of fiction as has appeared in the press for some time. There is nothing that the working man resents so much as to be threatened with the militia and nothing would so readily arouse the sympathy of strikers as they would not be amenable to reason. A liberal government happens to be in power and so if the militia took part the Liberal Minister of Militia could be blamed and the Herald and Journal could not afford to miss the opportunity for dauntless misrepresentation of a character that would be beneath the contempt of any self-respecting newspaper. To print this malicious story and then deny its truthfulness in the last lines is only to add to the offence.

When the party a newspaper is supporting requires to be upheld by methods of this kind it is in so bad a way that it deserves to be described. The Herald has got disgusted and promises to turn over a new leaf, but there are some papers that do not feel just right if they are not indulged in misrepresentations of this character.

AN ADVANCE IN IMPERIAL ORGANIZATION.

The most important question before the delegates to the colonial conference in London was the desirability of some scheme to give permanence to imperial organization. The summary of the results of the conference on this problem as issued by the Colonial Office indicates that the question has been determined in a manner which does not imperil the autonomy of the colonies, nor the unity of the empire. The disposition of the part of some of the delegates to form an Imperial Council with legislative and executive functions delegated to it by the Home Government and the various colonial governments was fraught with extreme difficulty and danger. As yet neither party is perfectly agreed upon the establishment of a body with independent status or authority. There are so many phases of the problem yet to be determined for which neither modern nor ancient colonial history furnishes any precedent that whatever is done must be the outcome of the irrepressible needs of the case. In this connection it is pertinent to observe that laws are scarcely ever made because they are right and just, but because parliaments are forced to pass them by public opinion. They are maintained and recognized only when they are right and just. So when the need for an imperial organization with separate executive power is so great that it will not down, it will come and not till then.

The new Imperial Conference will be an advisory body only, and a sort of intelligence department for the Colonial Office. Most of the mistakes from which the colonies have suffered in the past at the hands of the British government have been from ignorance of colonial conditions, sentiments and aims. No incumbent of the Colonial Office has ever desired to ill-treat any part of the overseas dominions. That very sentiment alone is a potent centrifugal force.

The Imperial Conference will give stability and prestige to the present status of imperial organization under improved methods of information received in the past. It is a step towards procedure with larger information and increased efficiency without altering its immediate dependence upon the governments represented.

This partial solution of a difficult question will be hailed with satisfaction by the colonies, and the extreme imperialists both in the colonies and in the motherland who favored an Imperial Council. It is a simple and palpable compromise by which the common business of the empire will be considerably facilitated. It is thoroughly British in its caution to advance slowly and surely not upon theory, but upon expediency and practice.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The contagion of diphtheria is still in the air and is sweeping the city with an epidemic.

The evolution of imperial organization marked by the advance from "Colonial Conference" to "Imperial Conference."

The affair of our alleged contemporary goes on criticizing Sir Wilfrid Laurier's imperialism as if the people took him seriously.

The balance of power seems to be on perfect in Europe that a king cannot go away from over Sunday without disturbing its equilibrium.

A despatch from Uruguay says the waves of prosperity are breaking over that country, but we venture to suggest they are nothing to the Pacific waves on the troubled sea of Europe. E. Foster's consciousness thaws.

A Danish inventor is advancing an invention in wireless telegraphy that will cut the cable in two. The inventor will be something that will cause people to stop wasting valuable time in condensing their messages into words.

One imperial figure is wanting from the Imperial conference at Westminster. It is thought that the world would regret the illness of Joseph Chamberlain, and the absence of his forceful personality from the deliberations of the conference.

The day is near at hand when, thanks to the Alberta government, every successful farmer in the province will be able to possess a telephone in his home. That will help to keep them on the farm; he won't need to be jealous of his city friends.

The administration of government telephones will be in charge of Hon. W. H. Cushing. That fact alone makes it certain that it will be conducted along strict business lines, for Mr. Cushing enjoys the reputation throughout Alberta of being a thoroughly practical and successful business man.

FOR A BRIDGE OVER RAT CREEK.

Dear Sir:—Some time ago I noticed a report from Mr. Todd in reference to the improvement of the River Park along the river and Rat Creek in the East End. So far your council seems to be taking no action in the matter. While in this section would like to see these improvements go on, we are more interested in having a bridge built over Rat Creek at View Point, on the west side of the bridge, than at that awful hill. In order to get made up that hill we have to double our teams, and then it is a heavy load for two teams as well as being of a valuable time. If a bridge were built we could not only save time but also make it much easier for our teams in hauling coal, and thus save a very large expense. The government would, no doubt, make a grant for the bridge, but unless the city would build the bridge the load would not be of much advantage to the people.

I hope Mr. Editor will give us your assistance in asking the Board of Trade to take this matter up with the city council without delay, and thus encourage the people of the country to yours truly,

CLYDE B. ALLEN, April 28, 1907.

An Old-Timer Nearing the End

Frank Nutt, Who Was Born in the Old Hudson's Bay Fort 78 Years Ago, is Almost at the End of Trail

At the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Frank Nutt, in a cottage at the foot of Sixth street, John P. Grant, a well-known old-timer, lies seriously ill. From his door he can see across to the old Hudson's Bay fort, which was built when he was born 78 years ago.

The Long Blind Trail. Now after wandering over the continent—north, south, east and west, he has returned to the old fort, and tells you calmly that he has been close to the end of the trail—that he will presently step out on the long blind trail from which no man returns.

The aged pioneer, who is of kin with some of the oldest French and Scotch families of Quebec province, and related by marriage to the Howards and Mackays families of Winnipeg, has been living so long a frontier life that now he feels as though he were himself an Indian.

Born in the Old Fort. His father was an official in the employ of the Hudson's Bay Company at Fort Edmonton, when he was born in 1829. His mother, a few years later, the father brought her to the fort. He was born at Three Rivers, and for some time he attended the college at Quebec.

As his years moved on in the years he chafed at the uncongeniality of life in the East, and he again returned to the West, where his father was in charge of the Hudson's Bay post at Fort Hill, Montana. At that time the Hudson's Bay Company had five posts south of the present international boundary.

Paving His Own Way. The youth was soon afterwards permitted by his father to embark upon an enterprise of his own, with some capital and a parental blessing he took up ranching and trading at his own life work. He built his first house on Deer Lodge, Montana, making occasional trips south to St. Louis for his goods.

The Wanderlust. He prospered, his cattle ranch was large and his business good. But the wanderlust was strong in him, and he set out again for Canada in 1867. His ranch he sold to a German settler, who afterwards became the cattle King of Montana.

Going to Manitoba. In 1867, he bought a store and by buying spirit and land outright he came in time to be the owner of many thousands of acres of land—over 30,000, it is said. He made then extensive trips through the West, crossing the Rockies and the prairie, but business was not the forte of this dashing, warm-hearted, incontinent trader, dabbling in politics did not do him any, and a period of depression intensified the poor condition of his finances.

Land-Poor. And bit by bit the erstwhile prairie king sold his land. In some cases he received less than he paid for it.

His Marriage. Shortly after his return from Montana to Canada, Mr. Grant had married Claude, the daughter of Judge Bruneau of Manitoba, a vivacious, capable woman who is now at Vancouver a detailed life of her husband as a frontiersman.

Final Move to Alberta. In 1881, the family moved to Alberta, and after a brief stay in Edmonton the family moved and took up land there. Dissatisfied in their first location they moved to a new place, but they were unsuccessful in taking up trading there. For some time past they have been living on a big farm in Winnipeg township, half-way to the Landing.

Now the aged trader, a man of quite patriarchal aspect, is back to the fort to die after a long life full of wanderings, of color and incident.

His Biography.

His biography, which is now more than half written by his wife, is a quaint narration of life and chat of people in the frontier days. It treats of the days of the "Vigilantes" of Montana, of the rebellion in Manitoba and of the early trading-days. It will be an addition to the literature of Western Canada.

Of Lumber. Edmonton Dealers
Will Dispose of Present Stock
Before New Prices are Inaugurated.

The announcement made a few days ago in the Bulletin to the effect that, notwithstanding the investigation, the lumber manufacturers of British Columbia had decided to advance the quotations still higher, is confirmed. All the local dealers have received specific notice of the advanced quotations.

The local dealers have decided that no advance will be made on the present rates for sometime yet—not before the first of June at least. Most of the stock in the Edmonton yards was was purchased on the basis of the old No. 15 list, and the dealers are going to give the public the benefit of this advantage.

The advances per thousand feet in the different varieties of lumber are as follows:—

Lath remains at the old prices, viz.,
 No. 1 pine, cedar or spruce, 45 to all points; No. 1 mixed, $4.50; No. 2 mixed, $3.25.

The British Columbia lumber mills are already engaged in cutting the logs of this year's cut, and have orders for supplies away above their power to fill.

Those familiar with the lumber trade say that the export trade from British Columbia is sufficient to take every board of lumber manufactured in the province, and it is only from motives of patriotism that any attention is paid to the prairie trade at all.

English Rifle Team Coming.
Ottawa, April 26.—It is definitely settled that the English rifle team will visit Canada this summer. They will contest for the Palms trophy and then go by the Canadian route to Australia. It is hoped that matches will be arranged in Manitoba and British Columbia.

SUNNY ALBERTA THE BEST OF ALL

President of Alberta Farmers' Association Writes From Ireland.

Joshua Fletcher, president of the Alberta Farmers' association, who is at present on a visit to Ireland, writes interestingly to The Bulletin from Londonderry. He says: "I left London at 2.30 o'clock on Friday afternoon, 22nd March, and reached the port of Fleetwood at 10.45. The steamer 'Duke of York' was ready to sail from Belfast. At the end of a smooth passage the morning found us tied to the wharf at Ireland's commercial centre in the north. The sun shone brightly and the wind was warm and pleasant. The shop windows made a good display of Irish lace and talent in their decoration for Easter trade; and Belfast, a thoroughly modern town, looked her best."

Belfast's Growth Like the West.
At present Ireland enjoys a prosperity before unknown. Belfast has grown like a western town, with its paved streets and an excellent system of electric cars and street lights. It is the centre of the Irish linen trade, and has what is said to be the largest rope and cord works in the world. The shipbuilding is very extensive and employs about fifteen thousand men. The whole population is about three hundred and forty thousand. It would be a big city if we had it in western Canada. The great rush of young men who have gone to Canada has left the Irish labor market over supplied, but I am told that the young women of this country far outnumber the positions of fair employment. Hundreds of these young women from respectable homes would gladly go to Canada—and every person in Canada knows there is room for them—but how are they to save the money to pay their passage and maintain themselves until they obtain employment in a new country? In these days, when men are scarce, there is much of the work on western farms which these girls could do; and it would be lighter and less severe than the work they do at home. The dairy and poultry, and even the sheep and hog industries, would afford employment better in every respect than that in which they are now engaged.

As Domestic They Would be a Blessing.
As domestics they would be a large extent replace the Chinese—and this in itself would be very desirable. During the coming year, the British at Ottawa will be pressed very hard to suspend the restrictions against Asiatic labor on the plea that the country needs the workers. There fore, it becomes us, who strongly oppose this kind of labor, to suggest any means by which it may be replaced. Sir Wilfrid Laurier clearly read the sentiments of our people—particularly in British Columbia, when he raised the head tax on Chinamen to five hundred dollars. Now, let us do what we can to get both men and women of our own race, and close the mouths of the railway contractors and the cannery men of British Columbia. They are clamoring for cheap labor, irrespective of sentiment or morality, and we must be on our guard, or our country will be deluged with the copper colored slaves of each day. I am not new provinces the departments of agriculture are to some extent taking charge of the cannery and poultry business, and we are being asked to take up other lines. Now, why could they not engage the services of some of these young women and at least give them a start? They could learn all that they need to know about these branches in less than a year, and a large number of them would be married and have homes of their own before that.

A Work for the Churches.
I am of the opinion that the churches should interest themselves in this matter. In all our rural churches, and in many of our town churches as well, the complaint is continually being made that the men do not attend the services—they just do not take the trouble. But let it be known that half a dozen girls employed in a local cannery will be at one of our country churches, and you will see the biggest congregations ever collected there, and more money on the plate than has ever been seen in a lump before. We all know that there are months in the year when the passenger list is almost nothing but both water and land trains and boats must make regular trips just the same, and the difference in actual cost between carrying a number of passengers and going empty is comparatively small. Why not give a very low rate during these winter months? It would be very dangerous and wrong to allow individuals to speculate on this kind of immigration, but it could be carried on under careful supervision.

Low Rate During Black Season.
This is a serious question, but it is one of the questions that half intelligent people and with a touch. We all know that there are months in the year when the passenger list is almost nothing but both water and land trains and boats must make regular trips just the same, and the difference in actual cost between carrying a number of passengers and going empty is comparatively small. Why not give a very low rate during these winter months? It would be very dangerous and wrong to allow individuals to speculate on this kind of immigration, but it could be carried on under careful supervision.

IT

THE AMERICAN-CANADIAN OIL COMPANY
Capital, $1,000,000.00

as the outcome of twelve months prospecting in the Morinville district of several of the ablest Oil prospectors and operators on the Continent of America, headed by H. L. Williams, the man who made Summerland, Cal., who drilled the first submarine Oil well in the world, at the aforesaid City, which well, after working for a period of six years is still a paying proposition.

Mr. Williams' opinion is backed by the positive assurance of Mr. G. M. Dawson, Geologist to the Dominion Gov't., who in the Canadian Gov't. Report for the year 1898 on page 31A, says:—"Taking the proved existence of tarry petroleum at the Pelican, and the indications at Egg Lake together, we appear to have demonstration of the occurrence of such Hydro-carbons, for a distance of one hundred and fifty miles.

The conditions existing in the Morinville field are similar to the petroleum producing regions of California.

Mr. Williams invested all his money in this enterprise, he satisfied himself by drilling a well near Egg Lake to a depth of 550 feet, that the formation was identical with that drilled by the Dominion Geologist at Pelican River in 1897, for on both occasions Gas was struck (allowing for the dip of the anticline), at the same depth in each well.

Mr. Williams, the President and Manager of this Company is a practical Oil man. He has made good in other oil fields, to wit: Summerland, Bakersfield, and Los Angeles, and is positive he will do the same here. We believe, and so do the Government Experts that we will strike Oil. What do you think about it? If you haven't thought about it, think it out now, and then come and see us, our office is open from 9 o'clock a.m. daily. We will cheerfully give you all the information you ask.

INVESTIGATION COSTS NOTHING

What will the discovery of Oil do for this country? It will make Alberta the richest and brightest Jewel in the Crown of the Empire.

Hitherto the machinery used has been inadequate, but now we have bought the finest Oil Well drilling equipment that was ever shipped into Canada, it is on rail somewhere twixt Kamase and Morinville on the C.N.R. and with it we are capable of drilling a well 3000 feet deep, for we also have a corps of skilled Oil drillers, and "We intend to strike Oil." The Asphalium is there, millions of tons of it. Asphalium cannot come from any other source than Oil. It did not come from the sky; no, it was forced up by a mighty pressure of oil from below. And we believe we have the machinery and the brains to get it.

SEVEN MINERS ARE ENTOMBED

In Pennsylvania Mine. Have Been Imprisoned Since Friday
Mysterious Tappings of 7

Johnstown, Pa., April 20.—Despite the fact that twelve large pumps have been in operation for two days at mine No. 20, of the Herward White company at Fossilville, where seven men have been imprisoned since Friday by a flood of water from abandoned workings, so little progress has been made that the miners may not be reached until too late to save their lives.

All day today the tapping on the compressed air pipes continued. The tapping party is greatly puzzled over the manner in which these tappings are given. Invariably the number is seven. Whether the miners on either side of the flood mean that they are in No. 7 heading, or whether they mean that seven men are living is merely a matter of conjecture. There is no possible way of reaching them in the seventh heading until the main heading is dry.

The men caught were all in the employ of Michael Boyle, a contractor, one of the entombed men. Mine Inspector J. T. Evans went into the Thomas, of the Herward White company. These expressed the opinion that a rescue would be impossible until some time tomorrow afternoon at the latest.

The miners have now been cut off from the world for nearly 72 hours. Their supply of food has long since been exhausted and it is only a question of time until the supply of air in the heading in which they are imprisoned will be exhausted.

ARE NOT EVEN SELF-SUPPORTING

Dr. Lyle, Hamilton, Shows Presbyterian Churches in West do not Contribute as They Should.

Rev. Dr. Lyle, of Central Church, Hamilton, and convener of the Augmentation Committee of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, preached last night in First Presbyterian Church at the conclusion of an interesting sermon. Dr. Lyle addressed a few remarks upon home missions and the augmentation work of the church in Western Canada. He argued that the Western churches were not making the same proportionate effort in supporting the cause of the church in the Western fields that was being put forth by the Eastern section of the church. He pointed out that in many cases a whole parsonage in the West did not give as much as an individual congregation in Ontario and the Maritime provinces. The augmentation committee were compelled last year to make the reserve of the augmentation fund to pay for ministerial salaries in Western fields. This year the synods of Alberta and British Columbia would require only 21 cents per head from each church member to carry on the work. Dr. Lyle expressed the opinion that Western congregations required only 10c to be made aware of the facts in order to make a liberal response.

Thirty feet on Jasper immediately west of the First Presbyterian Church was sold on Sunday to D. Dunn of Ed & J. Forrester of Red Deer for $15,000.

BIG CROP SEASON 20 YEARS AGO

Conditions This Year Have Been Similar to Period Preceding Prosperity of that Time

Newspaper, Man., April 26.—Twenty years ago (1907) was the season of "the big crop" when every head of wheat was a double-crover and the average was over 60 bushels to the acre. The spring was late a heavy rainfall covering the ground during the week, corresponding to this week. Some seedling had been sown before but very little apparently. There had been much less snow during the winter, in fact, there had been but little sleighing. Of course, the spring is only one factor in determining the crop and is no "sign" of anything in particular except in as far as it sets in aiding toward the complex conditions that are necessary throughout the entire season in order to produce a bumper crop. It does not mean that this year's spring is like that of 1907 the rest of the season will be also similar to that bumper season, but it does follow that a favorable spring is a good omen for further developments toward a bumper crop. It is in producing a good crop.

Former Secretary of State Dead.
Northfield, Vt., April 26.—Dr. George Brooks, formerly secretary of state of Vermont, died today at the age of 80 years.

From One Day To The Other

With April on the Hills.

Fourth would I fare with April on the hills
Partaking of the silver sacrament
Of song, forgetful of the grim intent
Of winter—its interminable ill!
Fain would I join in joy with all the hills
Voicing their vernal rapture—catch the scent
Of the loved loam returned, the turned.
Perfume the first white violet distill!
Fourth would I fare with April: You may bid
By the still-litening ingle if you will
Brooding on memories of some vanished tide,
Nursing some olden ecstasy grown chill.
For use the fresh free glory and the pride Wonder of earth from some sky-mountain hill."
—Clinton Scollard.

The After-Concert Supper.

The bright little supper after a concert or the theatre is apt to be an enjoyable repast, and if planned in a simple rather than elaborate style, takes neither the powers of the person entertaining nor the digestion of the guests.

The evening meal, taken before an evening at the theatre or concert, is frequently so hurried over, that when the concert is over the little supper comes as a very enjoyable incident of the evening's program. And it is no where as enjoyable as in the home.

In preparing an after-theatre supper there are many interesting yet inexpensive little touches you can give to a table to make it attractive. It will necessarily be somewhat limited so late in the evening; it is well to have all preparations made beforehand.

In the first place, it is a mistake for the average hostess to attempt an elaborate supper: a simple Welsh rabbit, creamed chicken or fish served in a chafing dish, with dainty sandwiches, a salad, cheese, nuts, candy, cake and coffee is quite enough. With Welsh rabbit many people think they cannot get along without beer, but ginger ale makes a good substitution.

All of these can be easily prepared beforehand and the table set in readiness. Make lettuce or olive sandwiches, and also some of minced ham or chicken, mixed with a little cream. Cut some in crescent or diamond shapes and roll others. Tie them together with ribbons. Make them restful on plates and set several plates on the table. Be sure to allow for a table to make it attractive. People usually brought to these mid-evening feasts.

Instead of cloth use a centerpiece and place dishes on a polished silver tray table and have it set early in the evening with all the plates, silver and serving silver that will be necessary.

Any chafing dish should also be in readiness on the main table. Some people prefer to have a chafing dish on a separate side table. Especially is this the case if on his lucky en-

THE UNION OF THE TWO RACES

Mr. Noel's Address Before Calgary Canadian Club Commanded by Herald

In its editorial comment, the Calgary Herald pays a warm tribute to Mr. Auguste Noel, of Edmonton, on the occasion of his address before the Canadian Club in that city. The Herald says:
"Mr. Auguste Noel, of Edmonton, upheld with dignity and eloquence the high traditions of the race to which he belongs. In his address, which dealt with the problems facing the people of Canada and the race means of assuring to this country its nationality on its auditors. His appeal for the unity of the English and French races and for a common sense of that political and religious liberty which was assured by the Treaty of Paris and which had cemented the loyalty of the French-Canadians to the British crown."
"Mr. Noel spoke as a Frenchman and courageously urged the claims of his nationality on his auditors. His address dealt with other phases of his subject—in fact, it is a fault to be found with his admirable effort, it would be that it covered too wide a scope for the time allotted. But his references to the part which the French have borne in the history of the world were evidently in his own mind the most important parts of his speech."

ough to own the many new chafing dish accompaniments.
A delicious appropriate salad for an after-theatre supper is made of pine-apple cut in small squares and covered either with mayonnaise or French dressing. This is very attractive served in its small square shell. The dressing can be made and the pineapple cut in small squares that remains to be done after the pineapple is in the mixing together.
As a rule a sweet is not necessary for a late supper. Cake, coffee and cheese make a very good dessert. If more is desired, however, use a gelatin, or chocolate sauce, which are easier to serve than ice cream.

Learning His Lesson.

"Biddy," says Pat, timidly, "did you ever think of marrying?"
"Shure, now," says Biddy, looking demurely at her shoe. "Shure now, the subject has never entered my mind at all, at all."
"It's sorry Oh am," says Pat, and he turned away.
"I'm sorry Oh am," said Biddy softly. "You've met me thinkin'."

SOCIAL.

Mr. S. R. Gorman and his daughters have returned from Chicago. The Misses Gorman have resumed their studies at the Convent.

Mr. Howard Douglas of Bank has returned home. Mrs. Douglas will remain in Edmonton for some time as the guest of Mrs. H. J. Saunders.

Among the festivities of the week's end was a bright party for young people given by Mrs. Hume and an afternoon tea at which Mrs. Kelley was hostess.

Mrs. Enoch Thompson of Toronto, who is at present the guest of Mr. Ernest Thompson Seton at his country place, outside of New York, will spend next week for England to spend the summer with relatives.

Mrs. Mabel Galt, daughter of the late G. W. Herlieth of Galt, was married to Mr. Paul Otto Pfeiffer of Heidelberg, Germany, on April 26, at St. Simon's church, Toronto. OPPOSITION'S LONG SUIT IS SLANDER; OF BUSINESS IT KNOWS NOTHING

Instance of This Latter Fact Provided in House, When Several Millions of Estimates Went Through Without a Word of Criticism—Has Advanced No Financial Program.

(From Our Own Special Correspondent in the Press Gallery.)
Ottawa, Ont. April 25.—Parliament began the fifth month of the session today and though the appearance is that the end is near nothing more definite than appearance is known. Saturday the House made a record from the business standpoint and passed estimates of the Interior Department and the Department of Land Revenue with commendable speed—speed if anything too commendable. To the layman it would appear that the appropriations of money for the coming year should be deliberately and systematically prevented the House going into committee. A clearer instance of postponing public business until the supposed interests of party had been served could not well be devised. In the material event the country may not lose much from the negligence of the Opposition, but it is because Canada has a remarkably capable government and a remarkably incapable Opposition that it should be clearly kept in mind that the Opposition has not seriously tried to contribute to well shaping the financial program for the year, and in this they have been following their ordinary course.

The Supplementaries.
There are still the second supplementary estimates to consider and an Opposition assault is quite within the possibilities, on the ground that the total estimates are large. That they are large is true but if the Opposition had any fixed and settled policy of retrenchment they would have left the manifestation to the closing days of the session. The way to economize is not to blockade so many pages of estimates on bloc, but to go carefully through the whole list effecting reductions where possible, which, though small in the individual item, would aggregate the desired amount. This the Opposition has absolutely neglected to do and an attack by them on the supplementaries simply because the aggregate is large could have no higher ground than a proposal to cut out so many pages from the main estimates, regardless of whether or not the expenditures therein provided for were wise or unwise, necessary or unnecessary. Expenditures provided for by supplementary estimates may be quite as wise and quite as necessary as those included in the main estimates, and if a proposal to block the supplementaries merely because they are such would be on a parallel to the refusal to root a house because the walls of which had already been placed under contract, but the total cost would be increased.

Survey Act.
Mr. Oliver introduced a bill to amend the act of the present session concerning Dominion land surveyors which was read a first and second time.

Co-operative Societies.
Mr. Monk asked the Government to take up his bill concerning co-operative societies, which had been referred by a special committee. Mr. Lemieux expressed his approval of the bill, but in view of the fact that the evidence taken before the committee had not been printed he thought it would not be wise to press it at this session. He, however, pledged himself to introduce the measure early next session.

The Coal Mine Trouble.
Mr. R. L. Borden having asked for news as to the industrial situation in the Western coal fields Hon. Mr. Lemieux stated that the latest news he had was a telegram dated April 25, from Sherman, president of District Union, No. 18, comprising the various local unions, as follows: "An trying to persuade men to accept temporary agreement and return to mine, pending investigation. So far have failed because company representatives, pending return of operators' president."

He said that the operators' president was Mr. G. G. R. Lindsay, of the Crown's Nest Pass Company, and that Mr. King, the Deputy Minister of Labor, would reach Fernie on Tuesday or Wednesday and he (Mr. Lemieux) had great hopes that his arrival would soon be followed by a temporary settlement pending an investigation at least. Messrs. Robinson and Parker the representatives of the miners and the operators had failed to agree upon a third arbitrator but this would probably be settled after Mr. King's arrival. He (Mr. Lemieux) had no date as to the number of men involved, but he was convinced that the newspaper reports were exaggerated.

Mr. Foster asked again about Mr. Dillinger, an officer of the Railway Commission, who was reported to have failed to speak at a meeting of the Winnipeg Board of Trade last week. Mr. Fielding replied that he had been told by the chairman of the commission that Mr. Dillinger was very highly recommended, and that an enquiry was being made into the insinuations against him. He was not sure whether Mr. Dillinger was a Canadian or a citizen of the United States.

Land Grant Question Held Over.
Mr. Fielding told Mr. M. S. McCarthy of Calgary, that he heard the question of land grants to South African veterans would have to go over to the next session.
